

Left to right: Tony Trowbridge, Elliot Turnbull, George Elliot, John Fetherolf, Gary MacConnell, Richard Prensner, George Boole, Captain Wasily Shepeluk, Coxswain Kenneth Hutchinson.

Crew

The 1954 Clark Crew, led by Captain Wasily Shepeluk, was coached by Dr. Eugene Melder and his assistant, Dr. Rudolph Nummacher. The season's outlook was brightened by the return of a nucleus of veterans and a fine turnout of new candidates. Returning from last year's squad were Gary Mac Connell, Tony Trowbridge, Dick Sanderson, Ken Hutchinson, and George Elliot.

Unable to acquire a boathouse of their own, the Scarlets used Shrewsbury's house for their workouts last Fall. No definite announcement was made concerning more permanent facilities.

The 1954 schedule listed usual opponents, such as A.I.C., Harvard, Amherst, Brown and Boston University. A season highlight was participation by the Clark Crew in the famed Dad-Vail Regatta held in Philadelphia.

Rowing Club

One of the most enthusiastic and spirited clubs on campus is the Rowing Club. Last Summer the club had to vacate its boathouse, but despite this handicap the club continued efforts toward a more successful season.

Each fall the Rowing Club holds workouts to teach potential members the fundamentals of rowing. Each member must prove himself worthy of participation in the sport. Therefore, aspirants must be initiated before full membership is approved.

The Rowing Club, through the enthusiastic and vigorous interest of its leaders, has encouraged and promoted men's crew at Clark.

Officers were: Wasily Shepeluk, Jr., President; Anthony D. Trowbridge, Vice President; Bryant Conant, Secretary; Richard Presner, Treasurer.