2005

The Clark University women's volleyball team, under the direction of second-year head coach Kate Weiss '03, fifth-year assistant coach Terry Malone '01 and first-year assistant coach Katie Tubbs '05, finished the 2005 season with a 10-18 overall record. In the New England Women's and Men's Athletic Conference (NEWMAC), the Cougars posted a 3-6 record with wins over WPI (3-0), Babson College (3-0) and Mt. Holyoke College (3-0) and earned the seventh seed in the conference tournament. Clark's final match was a 0-3 loss to the number two seed, Springfield College, in the NEWMAC Quarterfinals.

The Cougars opened the season as champions of the Cobblestone Inn Invitational, hosted by Plymouth State University. Clark also secured wins over Keene State College (3-0), Eastern Nazarene University (3-0), Newbury College (3-2) and city rival Worcester State College (3-0) this season.
