

Providing Global Education: Standards and Options

Peter N. Stearns, Provost, George Mason University

Author of "Educating Global Citizens in Colleges and Universities"

Monday, February 6, 2012, 2:30 -4:00 p.m.

Worcester State University

North/South Auditorium, Student Center

Dr. Stearns is Provost and Professor of History at George Mason University. During Dr. Stearns' tenure as Provost, George Mason has more than tripled its level of funded research and has tripled its number of doctoral programs. Expanding global partnerships include a growing number of dual degree programs and elaborate connections with students and universities in countries like Brazil, China, Egypt, South Korea and Turkey.