Additional Admissions Material

At the bottom of page 3 of the general application you will see the question:

On a separate sheet discuss your academic interests and goals. Include your current research interests as well as your long range research, teaching, or other professional objectives. List and describe published articles or books, research, inventions, or other creative work.

Please IGNORE it. We ask you to answer these questions instead.

1. Please describe your intellectual history. What is the path that brought you to want to pursue this degree? What people, books, experiences, etc. have had a formative influence on you? (one page)

2. Please discuss your dissertation project as you now envision it. We will not hold you to this proposal. This is simply a way for us to learn more about your current research interests. (one page)

3. Please delineate your long-range career objectives. (one paragraph)
