2011 RESEARCH AWARD

Application Deadline: May 9th

Each year the International Studies Stream awards up to $2000 to continuing ISS students to conduct independent research with faculty supervision on international or global issues.

How to Apply:

1. Consult with a faculty sponsor, preferably a Professor who has been associated with ISS. Agree upon a research project which is close to the professor's work so that s/he is able to give you some close supervision and guidance.
2. Submit a description of your project to include the following:
 - The question or subject of the research ("problem statement")
 - Describe the background reading you have done or plan to do ("cite relevant literature")
 - Description of your concrete research activity ("method")
3. Faculty Sponsor letter addressed to Robert Ross agreeing to supervise the work and addressing the likelihood that you can perform as described in your proposal.
4. Open to freshmen, sophomores and juniors who have completed ISS required courses: Global Society & Problems of Globalization. In addition students should be in good academic standing. In rare cases graduating ISS students entering fifth year programs may be considered.
5. Submit application, research proposal description and faculty sponsor letter by May 9th to:
 - Hard copy –Katherine Rugg, International Studies Stream, Jefferson 220B
 - Electronic copy to Robert Ross at rjsross@clarku.edu and Katherine Rugg at krugg@clarku.edu
