

WHAT HAPPENED TO THE BEES?

AMBULANTE A.C., MEXICO

The documentary unmaskes the privileges of transnational corporations and shows the effects of capitalism on the social and ecological structures of indigenous communities in Mexico. The struggle of Mayan communities reveals the contrasts between traditional methods, sustainable and respectful of the ecosystem, and the industrial work that threatens to modify life as we know it.

AN EXTRACTIVES@CLARK EVENT

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5 AT 4:30 PM

PLEASE, REGISTER HERE

IN-PERSON SCREENING: JEFFERSON 320

ZOOM LINK: HERE

CO-SPONSORED BY: NEW EARTH CONVERSATION

Panel Participants:

Robin Canul Suárez (Mexico, 1985) Co-director. Robin is a journalist and professional photographer who has collaborated with "Tierra Adentro" magazine and books published by the National Council for Culture and the Arts.

Leidy Pech, Goldman Environmental Prize, Mayan Beekeeper.

Jorge Fernández Mendiburu, Human Rights lawyer. NGO "Indignación".