Get Ready for the Major Exploration Fair – October 26th – 2-4PM

AHOY, major seekers! The Majors Exploration Fair is brought to you by the Academic Advising Center and is scheduled for Wednesday, October 26th from 2-4PM. Kick-off for this pirate’s treasure hunt themed event will take place in Higgins, 1st floor. Check-in will be right near the Info Desk. This is a great opportunity to speak to all of Clark’s academic departments and gather important information about the majors and minors offered at Clark. Just show up! No sign-up required!

Choosing a major is serious business — we can help. For more information or guidance, contact Brandon E. Frencic in the Academic Advising Center.

Things to Consider When Choosing Your Major/Minor

Self-Knowledge: You know yourself better than anybody else. Start by assessing your personal interests, abilities and values. Use this self-knowledge during this discovery process. This is your opportunity to find a career pathway that will provide for your future and make you HAPPY!

Explore Your Options: Take the time to look into educational programs, majors, minors, certifications and other career pathways that are available to you and of interest to you. Seek out relevant information pertaining to these options that will help you make your best decision.

- Visit academic departments
- Talk to a professor or faculty
- Interview industry professionals
- Meet with an academic adviser
- Meet with a career adviser
- Take an interest assessment or career assessment
- Attend major or career fairs
- Visit Clark's Academic Advising Center

Test the Waters: Taking a class in a topic that may be a potential major and/or minor is a great way to better help you with determining your major. Use your PLS requirements to take classes from different areas of study or programs of interest. You may also consider gaining part time employment or doing an internship in an industry of interest.

Major Declaration

Students are required to declare a major by the end of their sophomore year. Students who transferred to Clark with Junior standing must declare a major after one semester. For any clarification regarding major declaration, please email: advising@clarku.edu

Major Declaration Form: Click Here

Minor/Concentration Declaration Form: Click Here

These forms require a signature from the academic department of choice. There is a line on both of these forms where you will be assigned a faculty adviser, too. When completed, this form should be returned to the Registrar's office, 3rd Floor, ASEC Building.

Spring '23 Registration is Approaching – Be Prepared!

Advising begins on Monday, October 24, 2022. Course grids will be posted at noon. Please schedule an appointment to meet with your Academic Adviser to get your PIN.

Faculty Adviser PIN Release Information

As part of the advising process, students are required to meet with their faculty advisers for course selection guidance and approval. Students have been reminded to come to their advising meetings well prepared with a schedule that establishes a balanced academic load, one which the student will likely succeed. The students have also been encouraged to engage in an active conversation during their advising meetings and to ensure that they are fulfilling their graduation requirements, appropriately. It is for this reason that faculty advisers should not be releasing PINs before the start of the advising period, which starts on Monday, October 24th, 2022.

Registrar's Office - Launch of Degree Audit Tool

A new degree audit advising tool has been made available to all students and their advisers. The audit helps you track your graduation requirements and for those graduating beyond May 2023, the audit will replace the graduation clearance form. You have access to this tool through your ClarkYOU account under the CUWeb menu. Please take a moment to review the information. If you have any questions concerning which courses are satisfying which requirements, please consult with your faculty adviser.

Plagiarism

As we approach the end of the semester, you will likely be writing papers for your classes. Take a few minutes now to remind yourself of Clark University's policy on plagiarism: Click Here

Students who are found guilty of plagiarism or other forms of cheating will face serious penalties for such actions. While the most common sanction is failure in the course, students have also been suspended or expelled. Clearly, any short-term advantage has the potential for a very negative long-term consequence. Don't put your academic career in jeopardy!

What is plagiarism?

Clark University's Undergraduate Advising Handbook, defines plagiarism as the "presentation of someone else's work as one's own." This means that you are violating the university's policy of academic integrity whether you intentionally, or unintentionally take the credit for someone else's ideas and words.

Do not hand in a paper that has been written by someone else. If you buy a paper, download a paper from the Internet, or borrow a paper from a friend, you violate Clark University's academic integrity policy. You have also missed the opportunity to present your own, original ideas to the academic community. You have essentially silenced yourself.

Remember that plagiarism also includes the use of another's words or ideas without giving proper attribution to your source. Identifying your source's names along with the date of the publication may not prevent you from violating the principles of academic integrity if you have taken material liberally from that source. Using language directly from another source always requires the use of quotation marks.

Do not allow the pressure of course assignments to lead you into cutting corners. Getting caught violating academic integrity will result in far more negative consequences than will submitting a less than perfect paper.

Remember, Clark University's Writing Center consultants, who have expertise in a number of disciplines, are available to help you at any stage of the writing process, whether you are just beginning your research, you are in the early stages of drafting your ideas, or you want advice about how to best document your sources.

Academic Support Center

Academic Commons, Goddard Library, first floor

The Office for Academic Support helps all students achieve their full academic potential through subject area specific and success tutoring, Writing Center consulting, and academic coaching. Here more about what is new in our offerings this semester!

Tutoring Offerings this Semester

The Academic Support Center provides one-on-one peer tutoring in a variety of subjects. Frequently used tutoring services include support for Biology, Chemistry, Computer Science, Math, Game Design, Spanish, and Psychology. Additionally, we provide Peer Success Tutoring, which assists students with academic skills that apply to all academic disciplines. Peer Success Tutors help students improve their time management, organization, and study skills. Tutoring services can be booked through <https://clarku.mywconline.net/>. Appointments can be in person or online.

Writing Center Consulting and New Graduate Student Support

The Writing Center assists students with writing in every discipline in the university, and will help with writing at any stage! Students can continue to book appointments either in person or online at <https://clarku.mywconline.com/>. We also have a graduate student specialist, Lauren Cyr, who is booking appointments for graduate students at <https://calendly.com/lcyr-writing-consultant/>.

Academic Coaching and Drop-In Hours

In addition to our tutoring and writing center student staff, the Academic Support Center has multiple professional staff members who provide students with academic coaching. To learn more about our professional staff and book appointments, visit clarku.edu/offices/academic-support/meet-the-staff/. Our professional staff are also hosting regular drop in hours for quick coaching or questions. Stop in the office Mondays through Thursday from 2-3PM, and we will be serving folks first come, first serve!

Student Accessibility Services (SAS) & Testing Center

As we approach final exams, SAS wanted to send a friendly reminder around the SAS Testing Center policies and procedures for students. Please note, only students who are registered with SAS are eligible to utilize the SAS Testing Center in ASEC.

Students who wish to take an exam with us in the SAS Testing Center must complete our Test Relocation Form. In order for a test relocation request to be approved by our office, students must complete the Test Relocation Form a minimum of 5 business days before the scheduled exam date and TWO WEEKS IN ADVANCE FOR MIDTERMS/FINAL EXAMS. We take this policy very seriously as testing space fills quickly! This also allows the office sufficient time to communicate with faculty to obtain copies of exams.

Requests received that do not meet these criteria will be denied. In those situations, students should communicate with their professor directly to establish a plan of action to account for extended time and/or reduced distraction environment options. SAS is happy to support students in navigating these conversations with their professor(s)!

Below please find the link to the SAS Forms page on our website:

<https://www.clarku.edu/offices/student-accessibility-services/forms/>

If you have any questions or concerns around this procedure, please contact our office at accessibilityservices@clarku.edu.

First Year Success Advising (FYSA) Unit

Every incoming first-year student will be paired with a First Year Success Adviser (FYSA), a professional staff person who will support a first-year student's transition into the Clark community through their first year and into their sophomore year until they declare your major. Working in partnership with the FYI faculty adviser and the Peer Mentors, the First Year Success Adviser will be a student's go-to person for all questions they may have about Clark's academic or residential experience, including: answering questions about getting involved on and off campus; helping students understand the support services offered at Clark; assisting students with course selection (along with the faculty adviser); and clarifying any and all institutional policies. Students should stay connected with their FYSA by meeting with them at least once per semester, but should feel free to contact them with any question or concern. If the FYSA does not know the answer to a student's question, they will know who to ask.

The First Year Success Advising team is located on the first floor of the Academic Commons, in Suite 107D. Right across from the Help Desk. Stop by and say hello!

Community Engagement & Volunteering

Are you looking to expand your learning outside of the classroom? Reach out to the Community Engagement & Volunteering office for more information on how to find opportunities to get involved with the local Worcester community. Contact us at community@clarku.edu to learn more about building meaningful, mutually beneficial relationships with non-profits and other community organizations.

Thanksgiving Break

Thanksgiving break – No classes from November 23-25, 2022. (University closed Nov. 24-25)

Fall Course Withdrawal Deadline

The last day for undergraduate students to withdraw from a course with a grade of “W” is Monday, December 5, 2022. If you fail to withdraw by this deadline, you will receive your earned grade for that course. Before withdrawing, we suggest you speak to your Faculty Adviser and Financial Aid, first.

Are you planning to take a course outside of Clark?

To receive credit for courses taken outside of Clark, students must fill out a Transfer Credit Approval Form.

Transfer Credit Approval Form: Click Here

Students are required to attach a catalog course description or syllabus for each course listed on the completed form. Courses cannot be evaluated without the description or syllabus. Students should also fill out the form and begin the process for approval well in advance of the registration deadline of the host institution in order to avoid process delays and other potential problems.

If a student is requesting major, minor or concentration credit, they must obtain the signature of the appropriate department chair on the form before submitting it to the Academic Advising center. advising@clarku.edu

Any student requesting a course be evaluated to fill a Program of Liberal Studies (PLS) requirement must identify which course and which PLS they are looking to fill on this form.

A maximum of two courses may be taken over the summer. Students must receive a grade of C or higher in order to earn Clark credit. Remember, the grade itself doesn't transfer to Clark, just the credit. So, taking an off-campus course doesn't affect your Clark GPA.

Transfer Credit Conversion

- A 4-credit-hour course is equivalent to 1 Unit at Clark.

· A 3-credit-hour course would convert to .75 Units at Clark.

If you need further guidance on transfer credits, please reach out to the Academic Advising Center.

Career Connections Center

It's time to start perfecting your resume! Here are a few tips.

- Book an appointment with your career adviser. Do you know what you are doing this summer — or after graduation? Your career adviser can help! You can schedule an appointment on any career-related topic, including searching for a job or internship. Learn how to make an appointment in Handshake »
 - Get your résumé and cover letter reviewed at the Career Lab. The Career Lab in ASEC 119 is open for in-person meetings — drop-in hours are 12 to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday (except holidays). Visit the Virtual Career Lab for more information.

Prayer and Meditation Room Available in Dana Common

The Dana Commons Prayer and Meditation Room is a place for everyone — individuals of all religious faiths and non-religious beliefs — to experience peace, prayer, meditation, and/or reflection throughout the day. The space, which is not intended for any organized programs or meetings, is available for students to use whenever Dana Commons is open.

Visual & Performing Arts Department

The V&PA Department is excited to announce our Fall 2022 calendar of events! Please find the full calendar here as a downloadable pdf file or here on our website.

Just opened in the Traina Center's Schiltkamp Gallery is our fall exhibition titled The Affected Landscape. This exhibition debuts together four artists working within the medium of photography: Seth David Rubin, Anne Rowland, David Krooshof, and Pete Mauney. Each uniquely investigates the landscape through their own kinetic vision, process and technical invention. These profound artists find subject matter in varied locations that tap into their collective consciousness.

We hope you will mark your calendars for the fall production of Assassins in the newly reopened Michelson Theater premiering November 10th – November 13th! Directed by Kevin McGerigle, this multiple Tony Award-winning theatrical tour-de-force gathers our nation's most notorious assassins on stage to violently pursue a twisted American Dream. Bold, original, disturbing and alarmingly funny, Assassins is perhaps the most controversial musical ever written.

Follow V&PA on social media to keep up to date on our future events and updates!

P.S. we've rebranded! Instead of Clark Arts, our events will now be known more collectively under our department name: Visual & Performing Arts, or V&PA. Check out our new logo in the linked calendar above!

The Office of Diversity and Inclusion, Pre-Health Advising Office & The Career Connections Center

The Office of Diversity and Inclusion, the Pre-Health Advising Office, and the Career Connections Center cordially invite you to attend an in-person screening of Black Men in White Coats. The film will be preceded by a short reception and followed by a discussion panel featuring Brett Rayford, Psy.D., MBA - Associate Dean for Student Health and Wellness at Clark, Ché Anderson, MPA - Assistant Vice Chancellor for City and Community Relations at University of Massachusetts Medical School & Kenley Preval - MD/PhD student at UMass Med.

This event will be held in Atwood Hall on November 30th at 5:30pm. Please register through our registration link below.

Study Abroad

Fall, 2023 Study Abroad: Students wishing to study abroad in the Fall of 2023 should plan to submit their applications by March 1st, 2023. Before doing so, students should submit an interest form (found on our website clarku.edu/studyabroad). Applications for Fall 2023 study abroad will open later in the semester.

- Requirements: Clark University requires that prior to your applying to a program, you must:
 - Attend a Study Abroad & Away 101
 - Be a full-time student at Clark for at least one year
 - Declare a major and have an advisor in that major
 - Meet the requirements of your major and your study abroad program
 - Be in good academic, financial, and social standing

Study Abroad 101

Study Abroad & Away 101 session is required (and a recommended first step!) for any student interested in going abroad or away at Clark. This session is meant to teach students about the basics of choosing and applying to a program, the requirements and academics of Clark's approved programs, costs, scholarships, and more. We encourage students to join us to learn about opportunities abroad and to ask any question they may have about the process.

Remaining dates this semester:

Thursday, November 10th, 1:00-2:30 PM - JC101

Thursday, December 8th, 1:00-2:30 PM - JC101

*If you are unable to attend any of these sessions, please email us at studyabroad@clarku.edu to schedule an appointment to go over the content with an advisor!

International Students & Scholars Office

Save the Date: Clark University's International Education Week

November 14-17, 2022

What is International Education Week? International Education Week (IEW) is a weeklong celebration started by the U.S. Department of State's Bureau of Educational and Cultural Affairs and the U.S. Department of Education in 2000. While the initiative was launched at the federal government level, it is a wonderful opportunity to celebrate and highlight Clark's rich international and global tradition.

The goals of IEW, as they pertain to Clark University, are:

1. To expand the awareness of, and interest in, global learning opportunities and initiatives at Clark.
2. To promote the collaboration of various divisions and departments at Clark, as well as Clark student groups.
3. To strengthen Clark University's position as a center that values international education.
4. To support and complement the academic and public service missions of the University.
5. To celebrate the diversity of, and to nurture global citizenry and global competence among the entire Clark community.

Some events that are being planned for Clark University's 2022 International Education Week include:

- International Art Showcase and Reception
- International Alumni Panel
- Plenary Speaker
- Tasting of Local International Restaurants (Taste of the World)
- Opportunities Abroad
- And more....

For more information and to get involved please reach out to internationalcenter@clarku.edu
