

How do you stand so tall
in the midst of your
crumbling facade?

Aren't you ashamed?

Others cry out in hopes you

lose your balance,

but little do they know,

your feet are cemented to the ground.

Hollow.

They call it hollow.

I am hollow.

I have been stripped of my meaning and left

hollow.

How do you stand so tall
in the midst of your
crumbling façade?

Aren't you ashamed?

Others cry out in hopes you

lose your balance,

but little do they know,

your feet are cemented to

the ground.
